Wake County

One in five people experience a mental illness daily. This translates to over 200,000 residents in Wake County who live with a medical condition that affects their thinking, feeling, and mood.

Despite their diagnosis, barriers to care, and stigma, many thousands have been able to not only survive - but thrive. We will honor these community members at NAMI Wake’s Annual Celebration of Courage on August 14th, 2020. Our event raises funds to support essential, free programming for people living with a mental illness and their loved ones.

We invite you to be part of this year’s Celebration of Courage, and join us in working to create a community where mental health is valued.
